Dear Ms. Dougherty,

Thank you for your gift to the Department of Laboratory Medicine in support of scholarships for medical technology students. Your contributions advance the mission of UW Medicine, and we are especially grateful for your increased support this year as this will enable the department to support a greater number of worthy students who have financial need.

The ongoing generosity of donors like the Beckman Coulter Foundation means we can continue the work that makes such a difference in people's lives. Philanthropic support is a critical factor in our ability to pursue innovative research and offer the highest quality medical education and patient care.

The confidence in our work reflected by your gift inspires us. Again, many thanks.

Sincerely,

Joanna Glickler
Director for Corporate and Foundation Relations
